How to discharge any debt, ALLEGEDLY!

DISCLAIMER: This is information I have found on different web sites and forums, from around the web. I make no promises that it works, nor do I promise it won’t work. You must do your own research, and decide if it is something you want to try. Doing so, however, is of your own personal responsibility, and you will not hold myself, or any other parties responsible. This is for entertainment purposes ONLY! This is also in the US, only; I'm not sure of how it is in other nations.

Before I post how to discharge debt, it's important to understand what it is. Read your money: "This note is legal tender for all debts, public and private." As you may know, in The US Constitution, the only money is gold and silver. Starting in 1933, up through the 1960s, gold and silver, for the most part, was removed from circulation. The note is "tendering the promise to pay, when money is available."

So, with the US being bankrupt, what are our options? One such option, is as follows:

When you get a bill (eg, for student loans), there will be a part saying "detach with your payment." That is your "coupon."

Following is the verbiage that you will use on the statement/coupon:

1) (Somewhere on the statement/coupon you will find room to write this:
   1040
   Pay to the order of: United States Treasury
   Charge stated sum to: (write in the name (only) of whoever is getting "paid")
   Credit the memory of account number (put your SS # w/dashes here)
   (write out amount, in words, the amount you are "paying" here) (Example: Five Hundred and Ten and 23 cents)

2) IF there is a block where you are expected to enter the "numbers" reflecting the amount, then use it by filling in the block(s)

3) Wherever you find room near the top right of the statement/coupon, write "Money Order"

4) Fill out a 1040-V, blocks 1, 2 (if applicable), 3 and 4 (a 1040-V is attached to this post for your use)
   Nothing "fancy" in the address, just your plain old everyday address details)

5) On the same statement/coupon, where there's room, write this:
   Certified Tender of Payment
   For value for: (put in your name(s))
   Tender at Par as per HJR192/P.L. 73-10 6/5/1933
   UCC 3-311 (a) (b) UCC 3 Release of security Interest

This Tender payable by Assignment of Claim in Security Instrument only
NOTE: Not a bank check, for Holding Account only
UCC 1-201, (4) (24) (26) (28) (36) (37), UCC 1-104, UCC 3-304
"Private between the Parties" Partial Assignment of Security Interest
6) Mail your statement/coupon and the original 1040-V to:
Internal Revenue Service
Submission Processing Center
Fresno, California 93888

That's it, you're done. But, it may be a good idea to CC copies to the party you are "paying". The IRS can take their sweet time in processing, so the other side may have to be patient. I'm told that there are a few governmental offices, state and federal, that can negotiate your tender if they are so inclined to actually do so. The IRS will process it, so I'm told, no questions asked. If you are concerned that the state/federal/whatever may try to negotiate and then wait for the IRS to pay (an attempt to double dip), then mark the 1040-V you send them as "Non-negotiable".
